THE SENATE.

The senat- reconvened at 11:30. After a little routine bus, less, simon moved that the resolution adjourning the legislature at midnight Friday be rescinded. He induscriately moved the previous question, Flyeu of Linn rose to a point of order, and wit nort studing the point began talking. Weatherlori, Dorris and others guidened around him, urg ag aim to talk fill 12 o'clock. I was then about fill set minutes to 12.

Shuon respectfully demanded the prevanus question, but fill yeu went on. Then Dorris, Weatherford and Myers, each on his own account and a the loudest banes, began a chorus of tiralle against what they termed an outrage on justice. Simon hydrouts the diem and their anger scarce knew bounds. In the meantime, while the four west is nouting matedictions and threatening, the president, the lobby filled rapidity, and it took the stronges exer ions from Chief of "Allice Purrish, who happened to be present, and others to provent, the crowd form rushing in. The democrate in the crowd joined in the yells, and tendive minutes risk was run to ose. chorus of abuse broke out again from the surre four. Of course the message took procedence over all other by friess, and Simon moved its adoption. The chair in the motion, and in response to the vote decided it carried, This so emaged Bilyeu that he susted at Simon and roached in his hip pocket as be, advanced. He was caught by the sergeant at time and noembers, who restrained him. Whe at is considered that Bilyeu is a sixflower, and simon a small man, the act was covardly as welf as outragedus. Simon maintained a dignified barring.

Weather ord and Myers then raised a point of order that 3 out resolution adopted by an ayeard no vote cook not be reschided upon a vive vote vote and to the further ground that a motion to reconsider required a formal notice in advance. Mears and Weatherford spoke on this question, or vigilog with other members about to president's deck. Myers charged the president, upon his of the as servicer, and his toner as a man, not to commit what he termed the greatest political a trigge in the history of the American nation. Veraffer ord followed in the same strait. Both we constrictly enraged.

In the requirem the crowd rushed about the speedkers, who stood within arm's length of the constitution.

In the 1 cuptime the crowd rushed about the speakers, who strod with a run's length of the president. Hirsel stook silent buside Myers whice he spoke. This seeme in the torby and on the floar was one c. passion and contrision. It eems at hisses filled the air, and it seemed for a time as if a free fielt were inevitable.

When Wretherford on ichaled Simon was reconsticted by the next them.

mentary law demands such notice, it has been the uniform usage in both branches of the legislature to reconsider without notice. Practice has given this usage the authority of a fixed rule of proceed-ing.

The democrats at a caucus, which ended at 1 A. M., resolved to leave the city in a body by the 7 M., resolved to leave the city in a body by the 7 o'clock train for Portlant. They defend this course on the ground that the legislature stands legally adjourned. The republicans will if ect at 10 o'clock, and will adopt one of two courses—either elect a senator under the national faw, which provides that a majority of the members of the legislature is a competent body to effect a senator, or they will dispatch the segment-at-arms throughout the state to varrest and co upel the presence of the absonding members, a precedent for which was established by the legis ature of 1800, which sent Col. A CUSTOMS LEAGUE.

The idea of an American zollverein or customs league, is not new, but a plan for carrying out the idea had never been formulated, until it was done by Congressman Townshead of Illi-nois in a speech a few days ago in support of a resolution requesting the president to invite the American governments to join in establishing a commercial union, whereby there shall be abso-ute free thade between the nations of both American continents and a common basis of duties on imports from other countries. The proposal does not include the islands or provinces of European governments, but is comined to e United States, Mexico the republica of Cenred and South America and the Brazilian empire. The zollvergin, Mr. Townshenc maintains, would open to our moduc's a free market in these countries, with protection from the competition of the rest of the world. These countries in 1883 imported American merchan-dise valued at less than $43,000,000, against $100,000,000 from Great Britain and $55,000,000 from France. Under a commercial league the proportions would be reversed and the United States would naturally gain the bulk of this great trade. We need the products of the southern countries and they need ours. Reciprocity would be more perfecthan under any treaties in aking trade only par-tially free. Furthermore it would circumvent the 'most layored nation' requirement, which would operate in the case of treaties. No sericus loss of revenue would result, because 83 per cent of our present imports from these countries are free, while our exports are heavily taxed at their custom houses. The natural effect of the zollverein would be to stimulate the industry and increase the pressierity of all the increase alike. It would give a big just to shipbuilding and the carrying trade of the United States. It would secure the isthmus from European interference. It would make not only for trade but for friendship and peace. Pretectionists cannot well object to the plan, because it extends projection of A nerican manufactures. the "most favored pation requirement which extends projection of A perion many actual to the rest of the hemispi ere and prote its then from European competition. Free traders will agree readily to the great extension of the area of free trade. Whether the other countries will accept the plan, or whether the fine regule an-ticipated would be fully realized, rema as to be seen; but the plan suggested by Mr. Townshend seconds with the view that America is it. ### LOCAL AND GENERAL.

A Nice (District of Liability.—The case of W. M. Fife vs. The O. R. & N. Co. was tried it the state circuit court yesterdy. The compaint mads in the case was that on May 8, 1884, four hades of grain sacks, valued at $510, were delivered to the defendative boat, Anne Fricon at trange City, to be delivered at Answorth. One of these bales, containing 1000 sacks, was not delivered, and Mr. Fife containing the sacks, while in the act of sliding down the chute leading into the boat, he missing half of sacks fell out of the clute into the Columbia river. According to the testinony of the maise of the Faxon, the bale of sacks never touched the stamer, and before a row boat codid be lowered into the river the sacks had sunk. It was a nice question of law whether the warehouserner, owners of the chute or the O. R. & N. Co. was responsible for the tembling overband of the bate of sacks. Latter being out some time, the jury returned a variet for plaintiff for the amount claimed.
